

The Tumut Show Society Auxiliary ladies taking a break from cooking duties on Sunday were Barb Swinburne, Shirley Davis, Gaye Elphick, Maureen Dowling and Lorraine Luke.

Above left: Visiting 4WD enthusiasts Bill and Norma Kingston, Julie Denman, Nerida and Trevor van Woerkom relaxing at the show-ground after a lovely day touring around the district.

Above: Helen Sosnowski, Alan Leverenz, Denise Mardel, Wendy Juleff and Ian McColl.

Victorians John and Nancy Dudley.

Keen campers explore Tumut region

CARAVANS, camper trailers and 4WD's converged on Tumut on Thursday as the annual Easter 4WD Tri-state event got under way.

Tumut was chosen to be the NSW host this year and was home for members of the Sydney based Jackaroo club and sister clubs, the Holden Club from SA and the Jackaroo Club from Victoria, for the Easter long weekend.

The group participated in eight drives around the region including breath-taking treks to the Blue Water Holes, Blowering Dam, Pilot's Hill and along the Goobragandra.

When the enthusiastic travellers were not on the road to adventure they enjoyed the opportunity to catch up with friends, playing trivia and swapping stories.

Organiser Sue Cornish said the weekend was a great success and was enjoyed by all.

"We had 120 people attend and everyone had a great time," she said. "We were very thankful for the local support we received from Elm Cottages, the Oriental Hotel, Coles and Woolworth."

On Sunday evening the Tumut show society ladies auxiliary cooked up a delicious feast for the troops and the fun and games continued.

"The meal was lovely and a great way to end the weekend," said Mrs Cornish.